Description of new product :

SANLORENZO, the prestigious Italian shipyard representing excellence in the production of "tailor made" motor yachts, combines elegance with tradition & presents the new model SL72. The SL72, a 22m motor yacht, designed to comfortably accommodate up to 8 guests plus 2 crew members makes it's debut at the 2007 Sydney International Boat Show. The main saloon is a superb living area with wide windows allowing an abundance of light to filter in. Thanks to the high degree of customisation, the owner can choose any arrangement, shape, colour of furnishings or materials they desire, thus creating the most comfortable & pleasurable environment to live in. The first model produced by the Italian Shipyard since it changed hands, and the first of the fleet to hit the Australian shores, this greatly anticipated luxury yacht is set to create a buzz around the yachting community.

Unique Features / other information :

Two engine versions are offered on the SL72: 2 MTU 10V2000M92 or 2 MTU 10V2000M93 developing 1390HP & 1520 HP respectively. The expected speed is 31 knots & 32/33 knots at half-load. Nevertheless, such excellent speed performance is not the most appealing feature of this yacht since - as any SANLORENZO model - comfort under way and sea keeping prevail over sprint. Production hull with custom interiors - true motor yachts - very spacious - very large flybridge. The aft deck is an appealing place for alfresco dining and relaxation, while the flybridge offers sunbathing and a shaded area from the sun.
