July 2009.

Cobalt 262 - a family favourite for 2009.

Not just any bowrider, something very special for the family looking to maximise their leisure time. Featuring a spacious layout with faultless handcrafted over engineered construction and a list of standard specifications many would list as options.

Cobalt delivers something for everyone in the family with the 262 from performance to comfort, unparallel ride and room for all your gear and water toys. She's a versatile, luxurious and unrivalled with many features to genuinely boast about Manning the helm, wind in your hair, total control, stability, tight cornering luxury is best compared to a curving mountain top road behind the wheel of an imported sports car. Instrumentation is detailed but straightforward, making it easy to read. The upholstery, dash with refined switching has a rich, luxurious feel far stronger than typical boat fit outs.

Designed specifically for performance, cruising and comfort, an oversized cockpit with wrap around lounging that provides plenty of seating. The helm and navigator seats are wide and comfortable along with an extended sunpad ready for fun in the sun covering the aft of the boat. The toilet / head compartment has a plethora of space for a 26' boat, with wide door opening and 48" of head room.

The standard extended platform is a must for all water activities - low to the water with easy access and plenty of room. This is the only boat of its kind with a heavy duty stainless steel grab/bumper rail is a safe place to grab on and also helps prevent uncalculated fibreglass damage when reversing into tight spots.

The 262 will be on display at the Sydney International Boat Show 2009 - Hall 2, Stand 201.
