

A Sydney Debut and Huge Price Reductions for US Yachts at the Sydney International Boat Show 2011

Australian company, U.S. Yachts, will have four Hunter models on show at the Sydney International Boat Show as well as introducing their first Silverton Flybridge Convertible – the 36. Due to the strength of the Aussie Dollar, US Yachts are excited to be lowering their prices just in time for the Sydney International Boat Show

Prospective yacht owners will be able to look at yachts from 27 – 45ft, including:

- * Sydney debut of Hunter e36
- * the Hunter 27
- * the Hunter 39
- * the Hunter 45DS
- * the new Silverton 36 Flybridge Convertible

CEO of US Yachts, Matt Hayes, said he is looking forward to showing off the new Hunter e36, and the Silverton 36 Flybridge Convertible.

“It’s always rewarding to see how people react to seeing the Hunter yachts up close for the first time. The design of the yachts, the brilliant interiors and the excellent value for money when compared to the European brands puts Hunter to the forefront for many potential yacht owners, whether they are looking for day cruisers or to live aboard,” Mr Hayes said.

The new e36 is just beautiful, with a striking modern appearance, spacious cockpit, the very best in Raymarine navigational equipment, large gourmet gallery, flat screen TV with BOSE entertainment system and inner spring mattress in the master stateroom.

The Hunter 45DS is also a stunner, with the master stateroom delivering more space and amenities than you would expect to find, as well as boasting a beautifully-appointed salon, galley, nav station and forward stateroom.

The Hunter 39 is extremely popular in Australia, delivering the perfect combination of comfort and performance in a very affordable package. It’s perfect for cruising in Australian conditions.

If you prefer motoring to sailing, and are discerning when it comes to style and luxury, do not leave the Boat Show without looking at the Silverton 36 Flybridge Convertible. This convertible is the most popular in Silverton’s long history, offering luxury previously unattainable in this size range. Features include an uncommonly roomy master stateroom accommodating a queen-sized island berth, an opulent salon featuring an Ultraleather™ lounge, settee, and dinette table, with a flat screen TV, while the flybridge has stairs (not a ladder), a very comfortable lounge and all the latest navigational equipment.

Check out the Hunter yachts and the Silverton 36 at the US Yachts exhibit at the Sydney International Boat Show, on from 28 July to 1 August.
