Model / code of the new product: NG Series Stress Free

Description of new product :
Regardless of your boat size raising the anchor or dropping the pick accurately has been made a breeze with an NG Series Stress Free. The original Stress Free tested and proven for 15 years plus allows the anchor to be raised or lowered with the flick of a switch. This winch is a sought after product however the NG Series took the brand to a new level. The NG Series Stress Free has Power Up; Power Down and Freefall. All functions are executed with the flick of a switch from the helm. No adjustments required

Unique Features / other information :
The NGs free fall system allows the anchor to drop immediately right over your intended target area. The drum can only free spool with weight pulling down therefore once the anchor hits the seabed floor the drum will automatically stop, totally eliminating the risk of an over run. Also in the event of an electrical failure the drum can be mechanically moved off the drive system to allow the anchor to be deployed for safety.
